Jonah's Restaurant & Boutique Hotel has announced their latest win – Wine Spectator's Best of Award of Excellence at the Restaurant Wine List Awards, marking Jonah's wine list on the international stage.

Held earlier this month, the highly regarded awards accept applications from all over the world, recognising a venue that flaunts a wine list offering an interesting selection of wines and appeals to a wide range of wine lovers.

Responsible for Jonah's exquisite wine offering, Head Sommelier Christian Baepler is thrilled with the achievement and has carefully crafted a list that compliments the exclusive and premium Relais & Chateaux experience.

Christian comments,

"It is an honor to be acknowledged with such a high level award," Christian said.

"The criteria to be considered for the Award of Excellence was challenging. Winning the award, means we confidently exceeded the requirements and our wine list is superior in presentation, vintage depth and offerings."

Bringing an abundance of passion and expertise to the business of wine selection, Christian has enjoyed an impressive sommeliers career spanning over a decade. Having been formally trained in London, France and Austria, Baepler has held positions at a number of exceptional international hotels, including The Dorchester in London, Hotel Schloss Fuschl in Austria and The Observatory Hotel in Sydney.

It is with this wealth of experience that Christian created the Jonah's wine list, proving its strengths and winning the Best of Award of Excellence in the Wine Spectator's Awards.

In such a competitive space, Jonah's Restaurant & Boutique Hotel is constantly looking to implement new and extraordinary things to keep their experiences fresh.
